EPRO Express gets you moving

In an intensive 2-hour session, either online or face-to-face in the Wellington CBD, we focus on what's holding you back from communicating confidently and clearly in English with your clients and colleagues.

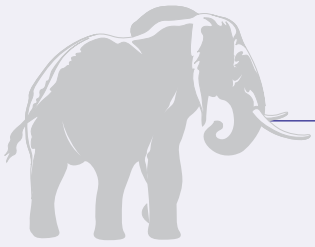

Together, we pinpoint the problem, prepare how to overcome it, practise some techniques and plan what to do next.

Like Bruno from France who was frustrated with his pronunciation. He knew he didn't sound right but didn't know what to fix. After listening to him do a speaking task, I identified the issues that needed work. During the session, we honed in on improving short and long vowels, which immediately made it easier to understand Bruno. We also looked at stress in pronunciation, as that's what Bruno needs to remedy next.

In EPRO Express, we transform your stumbling block into a stepping stone on your path to improving your professional English.

EPRO Express provides you with:

- a 2-hour private coaching session
- a pre-session questionnaire
- an action plan
- an email one week later to check in and answer questions

Your investment for 2 hours of personalised coaching is $347.
